THE WORLD IS GOING BACK TO OFFICE

For most of the employees around the world, their work life went through a sudden shift, with offices getting shut and work from home becoming the new norm. After two-long years of managing from home, there is mixed sentiment. While many prefer the flexibility of working from home, they also miss the physical interaction and bonding with colleagues in their workspaces. Also, work from home blurs the boundaries between work and personal spaces, which doesn't make it seem like a viable option in the long term.

Both employers and employees realize that workspaces are about more than just work. A joint survey by tech industry body Nasscom and job listing portals indeed found that employees and employers are equally interested in returning to offices. According to the Nasscom survey, hybrid work is the preferred choice of over 70% organizations.

WHY THE RETURN TO OFFICE?

Returning to office helps companies to manage critical business functions better and maintain the organizational culture. Not only that, data security is a big concern in large organizations and it's easier to maintain from an office.

OFFICES ARE BACK IN DEMAND

[Office demand went up by 50%
on year-on-year basis in 2021]

India is recovering from the deep effects Covid has had on everything around us. We are now in the bounce-back phase. After a long period of work from home, the demand for office spaces in NCR is seeing a strong rise with a 50% increase on a year-on-year basis in 2021, according to the global real estate consultancy firm Colliers.

- Total absorption in office space segment: 6.3 million square feet
- Spaces absorbed by startups: 1 million square feet

The overall absorption numbers indicate that the majority of the corporates are still committed to offices and for most of them work from home is only an interim option.

According to Knight Frank's report, in terms of rental values, NCR was the only market that experienced growth in Q3 2021 (YoY). The demand for office space in Q3 2021 was only 17% lower than the average quarterly demand in 2019, before the pandemic struck.

With corporates taking significant steps towards resuming work from office, increasing vaccination coverage and easing of restrictions, the business sentiment has improved considerably.
